

Mothers' UNION Locally

Active in Community

Mothers' Union supports many local community initiatives

Help bags of toiletries are packed and donated to hospitals in the region for emergency admission patients

1 in 3 children in the region grow up in poverty

Essential supplies are given to a community project that offers hot meals, friendship and creative art groups.

In Newcastle City more than 300 people experience homelessness

Packs with warm hats, gloves, and food vouchers are donated at Christmas for those experiencing homelessness.

More than 400 women a year in the north-east report domestic abuse.

Families who seek refuge from domestic abuse may arrive a refuge with nothing. Mothers' Union supports refuges in the region by donating clothes, toiletries, Christmas meals and toys; also essential items for a new baby and mother.
